Getting the Wrinkles Out – Responding to Feedback on Your Thesis

Have you received feedback on your work from your advisor that you are just not sure what to do about? Have you given yourself feedback notes that you now need to implement? Come talk to peers and professionals about your choices and how to engage the criticism effectively.

Offered: Wed, 2/17, 12:10 p.m.  Alternate offering: Thurs, 2/18, 4:10 p.m. (non-honors specific)

Troubleshooting the Tough Parts & Preparing for the Final Copy

The calendar is winding down and the work is cranking up. Come talk about the challenges you face, and get help in making good decisions about how to craft a final product you can be glad to have cap your undergraduate career.

Offered: Tues, 3/15, 4:10 p.m.

Preparing for the Oral Defense

Learn strategies for answering the difficult questions.

Offered: Wed, 3/30, at 12:10 p.m. and Thurs, 4/7, at 4:10 p.m.

ALL WORKSHOPS HELD IN THE WRITING & SPEAKING CENTER IN LADD

Professional and Peer Support:

Thesis Café – Join us in a quiet, dedicated space to get work done on thesis every Friday, from 9:00 a.m. till noon at the Writing & Speaking Center in Ladd Library. Bring your laptop and research; we’ll supply the coffee and chai. A writing specialist will be on hand to consult every week, and on “First Fridays” the full team of writing specialists will be there.

Writing Specialists: (Email the specialist in your field for an individual appointment)

Misty Beck, Humanities & Interdisciplinary, mbeck@bates.edu
Louise Brogan, Natural Sciences & Quantitative, lbrogan@bates.edu
Christopher Petrella, Social Sciences, cpetrell@bates.edu

Don’t forget there’s always drop-in help at the Writing Center in Ladd. Check our webpage for peer tutors who completed their thesis last semester and can offer their expert point of view.
