ALUMNI MEMORIAL SERVICE

JUNE 12, 2016

THE PETER J. GOMES CHAPEL

Order of Celebration

*“To live in this world, you must be able to do three things: To love what is mortal;
to hold it against your bones knowing your life depends on it; and when the time comes to let it go, let it go.”*
— Mary Oliver

Organ Prelude

Adagio e Dolce

(From the Trio-Sonata No. 3 in D minor by Johann Sebastian Bach)

Words of Welcome and Call to Memorial

The Rev. Brittany Longsdorf, Multifaith Chaplain

*Gathering Hymn

“Come Down, O Love Divine”

(Words: Bianco da Siena, tr. Richard Frederick Littledale. Music: Ralph Vaughan Williams)

1 Come down, O Love di - vine, seek thou this soul of mine,
2 O let it free - ly burn, till earth - ly pas - sions turn
3 And so the yearn - ing strong, with which the soul will long, and vis - it it with thine own ar - dor glow - ing;

dust and ash - es in its heat con - sum - ing;
shall far out - pass the power of hu - man tell - ing;

O Com - fort - er, draw near, with - in my heart ap - pear, and let thy glo - rious light shine ev - er on my sight, for none can guess its grace, till Love cre - ate a place

Excerpt from the sermon of the Rev. Peter Gomes '65 at the Bates Alumni Memorial Service, June 13, 2010
Paul Bomely '76

We are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, and in our day, and in our time, we will join them. What the young aspire to, what we still aspire to, these are the things that define who we are in this beloved community of memory and hope. And my hope is that we will never fail in that ambition. For, you see, it is our duty to remember.

Duty is a peculiarly Batesie word. You know it, and I know it. It is our duty to remember, to recall that which was, and to preserve the best of that for the time to come. The young, while they are young, may not get it. They get so little. But their time is coming, and some of them will learn from some of us that this duty to remember is not onerous. In many ways it is joyful.

So when we come back and engage in our duty to remember those gone before us, we in some sense are made whole again. Our classmates come back to us. Our experience is complete because of them and with them. And they are given new life in this place, which continues to give life to us and to others.

Musical Interlude

“Allein Gott in der Höb’ sei Ehr”

(“Alone, God, in Highest Heavens” by Johann Sebastian Bach)

Reading

John 19:28

After this, when Jesus knew that all was now finished, he said (in order to fulfill the scripture), “I am thirsty.”

Homily

The Rev. Lillian Jane Buckley '81

Anthem

Earth Song

By Frank Ticheli

Sing, Be, Live, See....This dark stormy hour,
The wind, it stirs. The scorched earth cries out in vain:
O war and power, you blind and blur.
The torn heart cries out in pain, in pain.
But music and singing have been my refuge,
And music and singing shall be my light.
A light of song, shining strong: Alleluia! Alleluia!
Through darkness and pain and strife,
I'll sing, I'll Be, Live, See.... Peace. Peace.

Introduction to the Procession of Flowers

The Rev. Raymond Clothier, Associate Multifaith Chaplain

Procession of Flowers

You are invited to bring your flower forward and place it on the Memorial Wall in memory and honor of a beloved friend, family member, classmate, or colleague who has died.

At the End of the Year

By John O'Donohue

William Hiss '66

- One: The particular mind of the ocean
Filling the coastline's longing
- Many: With such brief harvest
Of elegant, vanishing waves
- One: Is like the mind of time
Opening us shapes of days.
- Many: As this year draws to its end,
We give thanks for the gifts it brought
- One: And how they become inlaid within
Where neither time nor tide can touch them.
- Many: The days when the veil lifted
And the soul could see delight;
- One: When a quiver caressed the heart
In the sheer exuberance of being here.
- Many: Surprises that came awake
In forgotten corners of old fields
- One: Where expectation seemed to have quenched.
- Many: The slow, brooding times
When all was awkward
- One: And the wave in the mind
Pierced every sore with salt.
- Many: The darkened days that stopped
The confidence of the dawn.
- One: Days when beloved faces shone brighter
With light from beyond themselves;
- Many: And from the granite of some secret sorrow
A stream of many tears loosened.
- One: We bless this year for all we have learned,
For all we loved and lost
- All: And for the quiet way it brought us
Nearer to our invisible destination.

Reading of Names

After the reading of the names, we will observe a moment of silence as the bell tolls in memory of the deceased.

Choral Response

Come, My Way, My Truth, My Life

Music by Richard DeLong, text by George Herbert

Come, my Way, my Truth, my Life:
such a way as gives us breath;
such a truth as ends all strife;
such a life as killeth death.
Come, my Light, my Feast, my Strength:
such a light as shows a feast;
such a feast as mends in length;
such a strength as makes his guest.
Come, my Joy, my Love, my Heart:
such a joy as none can move;
such a love as none can part;
such a heart as joys in love.

Prayers for the Dead

The Mourner's Kaddish

Dylan Carson '16

Translation

Exalted and hallowed be God's great name in this world of Divine creation.
May God rule in our own day, in our own lives, and in the life of all Israel; and let us say, Amen.
Let the Holy One's great name be blessed forever and ever, praised and honored, extolled and glorified, adored, and exalted.
Supremely blessed be the Holy One, beyond all blessings and hymns, praises, and consolations, that may be uttered in this world; and let us say, Amen.
For us and for all Israel, may the blessing of peace and the promise of life come true; and let us say, Amen.
May the One who causes peace to reign in the heavens let peace descend upon us, upon all Israel, and upon the whole world; and let us say, Amen.

An excerpt from "The Prophet"

By Kahlil Gibran

Mary Morton Cowan '61

For what is it to die but stand naked in the wind
And to melt into the sun?
And what is it to cease breathing,
But to free the breath from its restless tides,
That it may rise and expand and seek God unencumbered?
Only when you drink from the river of silence
Shall you indeed sing.
And when you have reached the mountain top,
Then you shall begin to climb.
And when the earth shall claim your limbs,
Then shall you truly dance.

Saying of the Buddha

Translated by Thich Nhat Hanh
John Ducker '91

I am of the nature to grow old.
There is no way to escape growing old.
I am of the nature to have ill-health.
There is no way to escape having ill-health.
I am of the nature to die.
There is no way to escape death.
All that is dear to me and everyone I love
Are of the nature to change.

*The College Hymn

"O God, Beneath Thy Guiding Hand"
(Tune: Duke Street. Text: Leonard Bacon, 1838)

O God, beneath thy guiding hand,
Our exiled forebears cross'd the sea;
And when they trod the wintry strand,
With pray'r and psalm they worship'd Thee.

Thou heards't, well pleased, the song, the prayer;
Thy blessing came; and still its power
Shall onward, through all ages, bear
The memory of that holy hour.

Laws, freedom, truth, and faith in God
Came with those exiles o'er the waves;
And where their pilgrim feet have trod
The God they trusted guards their graves.

And here Thy name, O God of love,
Their children's children shall adore,
Till these eternal hills remove
And spring adorns the earth no more.

*Benediction
