Topic (please describe briefly):

Do you plan to conduct an education related thesis?

Would you like an Education faculty member to be involved with your thesis? If so, in what capacity (planning, as a second reader, advising or co-advising)?

IV. Planned Course of Study: 7 courses

The minor in Educational Studies requires the successful completion of seven (7) courses.

- Two courses are required for all students: Ed 231 Perspectives on Education; Ed 450 Seminar in Educational Studies
- Education courses will include at least thirty (30) hours of field experience, e.g., tutoring, action research, etc. in local schools or educational settings or field work related to education generally, such as research on policy.
- Students may apply to have an off-campus program or course, to count as one of the six required Education courses as part of their planned programs. Because such requests require the prior approval of the Department of Education faculty, students must submit a proposal for study away credit and their Secondary Concentration to their advisor before they leave campus.
