RE: Bates Facts 2012-2013

This is the eighteenth annual edition of Bates Facts, a common source of basic factual information about Bates. It is distributed to members of the Bates community to be used as a reference guide, and should reduce confusion by making a standard set of data and information about the college available to all.

The information reflects the 2012-2013 academic year, or (where specified) the most recent figures available. The most current information may be obtained from the office responsible for that area, or from the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment Support. Bates Facts is posted on-line at <<http://www.bates.edu/research/bates-facts/>>.

To avoid misrepresenting the college, members of the Bates community who respond to external surveys and data requests should have their final data verified by the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment Support before submitting any Bates data.

Please call the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment Support at ext. 8210 or e-mail at cbates@bates.edu if you have comments or questions, or if you have suggestions for new information to include in future editions of Bates Facts.

Double Majors

The double major requires completion of all major requirements in two academic departments or programs.

Individual Interdisciplinary Major

Students may propose an individual interdisciplinary major; which involves a detailed program of study with courses drawn from at least two department(s) and/or program(s), but only one senior thesis and/or comprehensive examination.

Liberal Arts-Engineering Dual Degree Program

After three or four years of full-time study at Bates, qualified students may enroll in a two-year engineering program at Columbia University, Dartmouth College, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Case Western Reserve University, or Washington University. Students earn both an undergraduate degree in engineering from Bates and a Bachelor of Science from the engineering-school affiliate.

Student to Faculty Ratio: 10 to 1²⁵

²³ Headcount includes teaching faculty and those on leave as defined by the Dean of Faculty. Several faculty have contracts for joint or split appointments in more than one department, but totals show unduplicated headcount.

²⁴ "AAUP" is the American Association of University Professors. Their definitions for full-time faculty are common among our peer institutions.

²⁵ This student to faculty ratio is calculated based on the Common Data Set definitions and formula. For more on how the ratio is calculated, see page 22 of the most recent Common Data Set posted here: <http://www.bates.edu/research/common-data-set/>

Bates Facts 12-13

Bates and the Community

Harvard Center for Community Partnerships

Academic Community Learning

- Half of all students engage in academic community-based work during their time at Bates.
- In 2011-2012, 942 Bates students were involved in more than 45,956 hours of academic community-based work through 41 courses.
- Eight students participated in our Community-Based Research Fellows program and eight students participated as members of our Short Term Action Research Team (STA/RT), representing several departments.

Community Volunteerism and Student Leadership Development

- In 2011-2012, 12,804 documented hours of volunteer service were given by Bates students.
- Twenty-five students participated in the Bonner Leader Program, devoting six-to-eight hours per week working in the community and another two hours per week engaged in training and reflection activities.

The Bates – Morse Mountain Conservation Area

- More than 16,000 people visited this area in 2011-2012, which is home to two endangered bird species.
- Faculty in five courses used the Bates-Morse Mountain Conservation Area. In addition, five other colleges used the site.
- Twenty-two elementary, middle and high schools visited the conservation area, representing 648 students.

Bates Dance Festival

- In 2013 the Bates Dance Festival, a program of Bates College, enters its fourth decade as an internationally recognized program that presents acclaimed contemporary dance performances, supports creative residencies for choreographers from around the globe, and provides training and professional development to over 360 dance students, artists and educators who gather on campus each summer for six weeks of immersion.
- Each summer the Festival also connects 60 local youth aged 7 to 16 with renowned artist/educators through the Youth Arts Program, a three-week arts camp offering training in the performing and visual arts.
- Participating in the Bates Dance Festival is now required curriculum for the new Dance major at Bates.

Bates College Museum of Art

- Each year between 12,000 and 15,000 people visit the Museum of Art. The Museum sponsors a number of educational programs, among them the Thousand Words Project and Rollin' to Olin, which link museum collections to Common Core standards across the K-12 curriculum.
